| Title of the research project and Scientific coordinator | Title of the research project: Quantitative and qualitative analysis of the results of the project “Innovation, digitalization and sustainability for the diffused economy in Central Italy”

Scientific coordinator: Noemi Pace (Associate Professor of Political Economy, SSD SECS-P01). |
| Reference to the project WP or WPs | WP 6 e WP 7 |
| Topic to be developed in coherence with the lines defined in the project WP | One of the most frequently reported definitions in textbooks is that economics is the science of managing scarce resources. The scarcity of resources means that any type of intervention must be supported by empirical evidence that proves its effectiveness. This scarcity takes on even more evident contours in the most disadvantaged contexts. It is therefore essential that these limited resources are used as effectively as possible in order to improve the well-being of individuals and communities.

The project aims to evaluate the effectiveness of the project “Innovation, digitalization and sustainability for the diffused economy in Central Italy” in particular in relation to the online tutoring and investor training activities envisaged by the project. The effectiveness of the project will be analyzed following a mixed methodological approach: quantitative (with data collected through surveys, laboratory and / or online experiments); qualitative (with information collected through interviews and case studies) and institutional (with information collected through interviews with project stakeholders, heads of local, provincial and regional institutions).

More specifically, the project activities will develop on two macro areas:

1) Continuous monitoring and evaluation procedures:
   - institutional elements: organizational and management elements;
   - economic elements: economic effectiveness;
   - environmental elements: biological and physical impacts.

2) Evaluation of the impact and results of the project in terms of:
   - Financial and non-financial impact;
   - Impact on production and economic growth;
   - Environmental impact;
   - Impact on social and gender balance. |
| Scientific productivity objectives and qualitative characteristics of scientific production | Production of at least two scientific articles to be submitted for publication in peer-reviewed journals. It is also required the production of 3 reports (one every 12 months) which will describe all the activities carried out during the entire duration of the project. |
| Total didactic effort | 60 hours of frontal lessons |
| Teaching, supplementary teaching and student service activities | 30 office hours and tutoring |
| Financial coverage for the entire duration of the contract (including employee and corporate account charges) | Concession decree MUR no.1057 of 06.23.2022 |

The criteria and parameters referred to in the previous paragraph are made public in the specific section of the University website www.unite.it, dedicated to the procedure in question, at least 3 days before the preliminary evaluation and the evaluation of qualifications and scientific production, and are published on the University website.

The preliminary evaluation of the candidates will take place, on the basis of the criteria referred to in paragraph 2, with a reasoned analytical judgment on the qualifications, on the curriculum and on the scientific production, including the doctoral thesis.

After the discussion, a score is assigned to the qualifications and to each of the publications presented by the candidates admitted to the discussion itself.

The sessions of the commission can be held electronically.

In this case, the members of the commissions participate in the sessions using their own telematic devices.
